

SHAREVIBE turns shared desire into double the passion for both partners

Discover SHARE 2.0. The trusted and constantly improved shape of the SHARE family now meets the thrilling vibrations of a powerful, rechargeable BULLET. SHAREVIBE is the name of this impressive coupleTOY from FUN FACTORY which - without a harness - intensively pleases the active woman and the passive part.

Bremen, October 2014 – SHAREVIBE is a uniquely flexible toy that is well-thought-out in terms of function and anatomical fit. Its optimised shape lets it become a natural extension of HER body. Inserted vaginally and held by the pelvic muscles, the hard yet flexible silicone shaft allows the active woman to sensually penetrate her partner. This trend in erotic role reversal, also called “pegging”, brings experiment-happy couples into whole new realms. SHAREVIBE flexibly adapts to all desired positions and pleasures not only the passive part, but also the active women through the feedback of the thrusts movements. The vibrationBULLET in the middle of the silicone body intensifies the pleasure with gentle to powerful vibrations.

Role play with a regular harness (belt for the active woman to attach the sex toy) can easily become complicated, inflexible and not very sensuous. The belt pinches, irritates the skin and of course disrupts natural body contact between the two lovers. Plus, the dildo being used often doesn't have the needed hold or can only be held at an unnatural 90° to the user. Spontaneous position changes and a wild love game without interruptions are out of question. Plus, the active woman often isn't stimulated at all and only has a little feeling of how intensely to pleasure her partner.

SHAREVIBE, in contrast, creates a very sensual connection between the two lovers and leads to uniquely sensitive experimentation. So the SHAREVIBE is the perfect toy for all beginners in the erotic world of sexual role games, but also great for experienced users who are ready to discover the comfortable handling of SHAREVIBE.

The unique highlight of the SHAREVIBE is its removable BULLET which is placed between the long and short end and spreads its vibrations to the active and passive partner. The 3 vibration intensities and 2 vibration rhythms of the waterproof, rechargeable BULLET boost the intensity of the love game with just a push of the FUN button and makes using the toy even more diverse.
